Street sidesteps stress build-up in retail loans

HAMSINI KARTHIK & ABHIJIT LELE Mumbai, 3 February

here seems to be no let-up in banking stocks for the third session in a row, as the Nifty Bank index scaled to a fresh high of 34,758 points, up 1.4 per cent over the previous close. RBL Bank, IndusInd Bank, and Axis Bank continued their upward trajectory, gaining 3.0-7.5 per cent on Wednesday, and were closer to 'gapping down' past year's losses. Brokerages have revised their earnings target by at least 15 per cent across the board for banks after the Q3FY21 results.

The point that seems to be ignored amid the euphoria is the brewing stress in the retail segment.

ICICI Bank, Axis Bank, and RBL Bank, reporting segment-level data on non-performing assets (NPAs), indicate the stress in the retail segment is at a 10-year high. IDFC First Bank posted 3.88-per cent retail gross NPA without considering the Supreme Court's (SC's) stay on asset classification - the highest the bank has ever witnessed.

Capital First, now merged with IDFC First Bank, even during its tough quarters following demonetisation in 2016-17, did not see its gross NPA climb over 3 per cent.

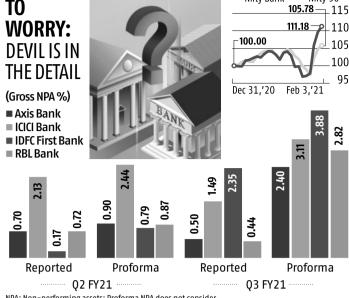

In a media call, Amitabh Chaudhry, MD and CEO of Axis Bank, explained that the inability to in the December quarter, resulting in higher retail NPAs.

Sandeep Bakshi, president, ICICI Bank, says that with December being the first quarter out of moratorium, the stress is particularly high in retail loans. "Retail stress has never been an issue. But there is no doubt we are likely to see stress more than the historic level," says Sanjiv Chadha, MD and CEO, Bank of Baroda.

Industry experts say while other banks, such as HDFC and IndusInd, may not have revealed much information in their quarterly results, their position may not be any different to their peers.

The worrisome part is that despite banks acknowledging the accumulation of stress in the retail business, the Street seems to be ignoring the warning signs. For instance, Morgan Stanley's February 2 report Large private banks: Entering Golden Age — Next leg of rerating cycle notes that asset quality trends have been better than expected at large private banks. 'The trends surprised positively

- impaired loan formation was 1.8force any legal action was a problem 2.4 per cent in 9MFY21, versus 1.7-3.4 per cent of 9MFY20," the analysts note, although they don't mention that the number appears lower due to moratorium from March-August 2020 and the current dispensation from the SC since September.

According to January's FSR, gross NPAs may increase from 7.5 per cent in September 2020 to 13.5 per cent by September 2021. The share of retail assets has grown from 18 per cent in 2012 to 29 per cent in 2020. Hemindra Hazari, an independent market analyst, calls it the typical deficiency of sell-side research. "In a rising market, they don't want to call out a problem, as it would be detrimental to the stock." he says. Another fund manager says in a liquidity-infused rally, concerns are often ignored.

"If a fund manager misses the flow, it's a loss for the portfolio. So being aware of the retail stress, we would book profit periodically," he explains, while adding that the commentary from banks - which hasn't been assuring on asset quality supports the decision to book profit. 'The bank's ability to assess the extent of stress is a little more difficult now," said Chadha in an analyst call. According to Union Bank of India, managing stress from retail is process-intensive, as lenders will deal with plenty of units and persons. Banks have to expand the bandwidth and reorient branches to handle cases with sensitivity and maturity.

Hazari recalls the Street's underplaying of retail stress similar to the situation in 2011-12, when the stress in wholesale loans was building up. "Not many pointed it out when it was brewing, and it ballooned into a big problem," he narrates.

For now, the Street seems to be on the path of repeating the mistake with retail loans. But whether it costs investors dear, will unravel soon.

'No three-way merger, insurance business to remain independent'

Demand revival for commercial vehicles (CVs) is sustainable, says UMESH REVANKAR, managing director (MD) and chief executive officer (CEO), Shriram Transport Finance. In an interview to Hamsini Karthik, he says that as fleets resume plying, restructuring requests are fewer than expected. He also spoke on Budget-related developments for the business. Edited excerpts:

UMESH REVANKAR

Managing Director &

Chief Executive,

Finance

Shriram Transport

How sustainable is the well-rounded recovery seen in the October-December quarter?

Recovery is strong and positive, so I feel it will remain quite good. Whatever development we have seen in the last few days and in the Budget, and the way the market has taken it, it gives us hope that sustainability will be there for long. Definitely, the pent-up demand will also come back to propel the economy.

Unlike in the passenger vehicles space, pent-up demand isn't visible in the CV segment ...

New vehicle sales are not always the indicator of how demand is because what happened in CVs is that there was an overcapacity in the system because of the axle weight norms. The overcapacity is now getting absorbed, and as that happens, the new capacity requirement will start looking up, may be in six months. Heavy vehicle demand also depends on government spending on infrastructure. With the Budget giving a strong infra push, demand for new CVs will also come.

At what juncture would you consider a bank licence favourably?

Whether the group should have a bank was discussed in the past but we are not looking at transforming the NBFC into a bank. We are not looking at any inorganic opportunity as far as banking is concerned. On the basis of the Reserve Bank of India's internal working group report, it is very clear that both the bank and NBFC will continue to remain but there will be higher regulatory supervision than earlier, on a par with banks. We feel that this will improve the health of NBFCs.

What is the position on the three-way merger of group companies?

We are not considering any three-way merger now. The group would like the insurance business to remain independent.

> How positive is the scrappage policy in terms of providing a growth opportunity to the sector?

There are no clear guidelines about a vehicle scrapping policy. What was mentioned in the Budget looks like more of a voluntary scrappage for CVs above 15 years. So, the government has to give some incentive if it is voluntary. The other way is that it may start charging a green tax or some extra fee for vehicles older than 15 years when they come for fitness test. What will happen is that people who have older vehicles more than 15-20 years — may buy 5-10 year-old vehicles. Those who have 5-10 year-old vehicles will buy new ones.

How confident are you of keeping the restructuring book at 3 per cent? We planned for 3 per cent, but as of now, the restructuring has been much lower - just 0.3 per cent based on what we have done up to December. Our latest target is around 2.2 per cent and not even 3 per cent. That's because many vehicles, which had challenges earlier, are coming back on the road. especially on passenger transportation. There is revival and people are confident of paying and not really seeking restructuring.

What's the comfort on cost of fund?

Sequentially, our cost of borrowing has been reducing every quarter. In the last two quarters, we have shown improvement in net interest margin, and sequentially, it improved by 22 bps in the last quarter. We expect a further improvement of another 15-

20 bps in March as incremental borrowing is coming at a lower cost. We recently raised a sum of $500 million through social bonds from the international markets. Even through the domestic bond market, we were able to raise money at a cheap rate. Moreover, we are a deposit-taking NBFC and public deposit inflow has been very good. Public deposits made up close to 11 per cent of our liability last year, and it has grown to 14.7 per cent in the December 2020 quarter.
